"Uncle Rod's Moon" (30 in. x 24 in.) Oil on Panel by Paul McMillan

Since 1965, the Pittsburgh Society of Artists (PSA) has been dedicated to providing its members with exhibition opportunities and to encouraging creative thinking through member meetings held twice a year. At the PSA members meetings, knowledgeable speakers explore aspects of the arts and accomplished artists present educational demonstrations. Other activities include trips to art museums, artists' studios, workshops, and more.

PSA, with over 300 members whose work represents all visual-arts media, is the largest guild of the Pittsburgh Filmmakers/Pittsburgh Center for the Arts (PF/PCA), which offers valuable resources such as exhibition space, teaching programs, and the opportunity to sell your work in the Center Shop. As a member of the Pittsburgh Society of Artists all this is yours.

Visit www.pittsburghsocietyofartists.org for more specific information.

All due care will be taken handling art. PSA is not responsible for loss or damage.
